

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Media Contact: Brittany Pawlikowski
651.789.2238
bpawlikowski@beehivepr.biz

DCM Services, LLC Announces Executive Leadership Promotions

MINNEAPOLIS (Feb. 17, 2009) — DCM Services, LLC, the industry leader in deceased account recovery, today announced three executive leadership promotions:

- Gary Becker has been promoted to chairman and general counsel; Becker was most recently chief executive officer (CEO) and general counsel;
- Steve Farsht has been named CEO; Farsht was most recently president and chief operating officer (COO); and
- Ben Boyum has been promoted to COO; Boyum was most recently executive vice president of operations and chief information officer.

“In less than two years, under the leadership of Gary, Steve and Ben, DCM Services has established itself as the premiere organization in the United States focused on deceased accounts,” stated James Balogh, co-founder and board member of DCM Services. “With their extensive knowledge of decedent debt, vast industry expertise and innovative thinking, DCM Services is well-positioned to fulfill its mission of transforming the way organizations deal with the deaths of their customers.”

About DCM Services

Recently named one of the “Best Places to Work in Collections” by insideARM.com and Best Companies Group, Minneapolis-based DCM Services helps companies that issue credit deal with the deaths of their customers. Its unique Survivor Recovery™ Services increase recoveries, protect brand value and enhance survivor relationships – with respect and sensitivity. DCM Services leverages the Probate Finder® Technology from Forte, LLC, to collect, consolidate and organize probate-filing information on a comprehensive, nationwide basis. The company was founded by James Balogh and Gary Becker, pioneers in the debt recovery industry. www.dcmservices.com